About the Program

The Event sounds like a wonderful initiative! Providing breakfast to blind people not only addresses their basic needs but also shows compassion and support for their community. By organizing a breakfast event for blind people, alumni can demonstrate their commitment to serving their community and fostering a more inclusive society. Such initiatives not only provide practical support but also create opportunities for meaningful connections and mutual understanding. Alumni contributions to a department library can be incredibly valuable. Not only do they add to the resources available to current students and faculty, but they also serve as a testament to the ongoing connection and support of alumni to their alma mater.
